The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'localhost:3000/articles'. The main content area shows a JSON array of six article objects. Each object has fields for '_id', 'title', and 'content'. The browser's developer tools are open, showing the JSON data in a tree view. The first article is about REST, the second about API, the third about Bootstrap, the fourth about DOM, the fifth about Jack Bauer, and the sixth about Chuck Norris.
